

TRIBAL NATIONS MAP

TRADITIONAL NAMES & LOCATIONS

Contained within this map are the names of 1,200 Indigenous Nations and tribes from what is now called "North America." It is the most comprehensive map of North American Tribal homelands to date. We seek to honor all Nations, by including the larger, well-known ones as well as many that did not survive the effects of European arrival and incursion. Most of the tribal names are the correct names used to call themselves in their own languages. The only exceptions are for those tribes whose languages were never documented. It is a visual reminder of who called this land home for tens of thousands of years before any European set foot, creating a sense of pride for modern day Native peoples as well as educating the non-Native public. To Native people, this land will always be our ancestral homeland.

Dedicated in honor to the memory of my good friend Marques Katsumi Saito (1984-2014), who had profound respect for Native and all cultures.
